

KIMBERLY JOHNSTON is a National Tax Partner in Energy at EY, where she has leverage her seasoned Fortune 500 executive and board member experience along with more than 25 years of leadership positions at CenterPoint Energy, Spectra Energy, PwC, EY, AIG and U.S. Treasury.

Kimberly's expertise includes tax policy, regulatory legislation, M&A, corporate strategy, organization transformation, audit negotiation and SEC matters.

In 2016, Ms. Johnston had the honor of being named one of Houston's Most Influential Women of 2016. She was also recognized by the Corporate Executive Board for her expertise in transforming organizations to teams of trusted professionals delivering sustainable value. During Kimberly's time at PwC, she received the PwC national sliver award for client excellence.

Ms. Johnston is the founder of Good Works Houston, a community-based organization fostering sustainable, market-based solutions tackling upward mobility challenges to empower people in need to attain a life of quality.